Kyneton High works start

There's much excitement at Kyneton High School, with demolition works in progress to upgrade school buildings and create a modern learning environment for students.

The Food Technology building (near the bus interchange) has been demolished, soon to be replaced with a new STEAM building to complement the newly established Technology & Innovation Hub and form an entire STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Maths) complex.

The works are part of $10.9M of further works announced last year by State Member Mary-Anne Thomas to help deliver a 21st century education to students in 21st century facilities.

The double story STEAM building will encompass specialist classrooms - brand new art studios, food and hospitality, with new kitchens and a commercial kitchen, science labs, plus general-purpose classrooms. Phase two of the school works will be demolishing the current Art and Design building, opening up the space to form a communal agora.

Truck wash follow up

Kyneton Connect has drawn the attention of the Council to concerns raised regarding the new Kyneton Saleyards truck wash.

It has been reported that it can take up to four hours to wash a big truck whereas with the old truck wash it took one hour.

Shane Walden, Director of Assets and Operations has responded.

"Council officers are in conversation with the Livestock & Rural Transporters Association of Victoria (LRTAV) relating to the upgrades at the Kyneton Saleyards.

"Council is investigating claims that the washout time has increased since the upgrade works.

"No one has informed the council of a fourfold increase in wash times.

"When council officers recently met with representatives from the LRTAV, we listened to their concerns.

"Officers briefed them on the investigation process to date and future actions.

"These actions include reviewing the computer data from the truck wash.

As part of the upgrade project, the Council fitted a roof over bays 2 & 3 of the Kyneton Truck Wash to protect truck drivers from the elements and enable rainwater harvesting for use in the truck wash.

The upgrade included installing a new pump house and replacing the old water pumps with new models.

"The upgrade intends to provide a water-efficient system that also meets the needs of the LRTAV and drivers" Mr Walden said

Premier officially opens Hub

Julie Landy (Acting CEO), Mary-Anne Thomas, Margaret McDonald (Former Cobaw CEO), Dan Andrews, Riwka Hagen (Former Cobaw Chair), Peter Donlon (Sunbury & Cobaw Chair),

On Thursday April 13 Premier Dan Andrews accompanied by Member for Macedon Mary-Anne Thomas officially opened the Sunbury and Cobaw Community Health Hub at 1 Caroline Chisholm Drive Kyneton.

It was the fulfilment of a promise the Premier had made on one of his visits to the Hub when it was under construction.

The $9.8M Hub offers residents increased access to a range of vital health, family and community services under one roof.

The Hub actually commenced operation in mid-2020 with many staff working remotely for much of 2020 and 2021 pushing back the opening to 2022.

The Hub includes 14 consulting rooms for allied health, counselling, paediatric and family services as well as new e-health technology to provide clients in remote areas with the health care they need, when they need it.

The site also provides dedicated areas for youth and children's services and meeting spaces for the community to use.

The facility was proposed, planned and its construction overseen by Cobaw Community Health but in late 2020 the Service resolved to merge with Sunbury Community health and on Jan 1 2021 became Sunbury and Cobaw Community Health.

Goodbye Lady Brooks Kinder

After 70 years in Hutton Street Kyneton's kindergarten, now named Kyneton Kindergarten, has re-located to 49 Edgecombe St in the grounds of the Kyneton Primary School.

Classes commenced in the new kinder from the start of Term One but external ground works, especially for car parking, proceeded throughout the term.

The buildings of the old Lady Brooks Kindergarten in Hutton St are now vacant but the Maternal and Child Health Centre and the Kyneton Toy Library continue at the site.

The history of the Kindergarten in Hutton St is interesting:

A public meeting was called by the Shire President, Cr. F.C. McCormack in Sept 1952 to consider and adopt a constitution in respect of the Kyneton & District Pre-School Association.

The meeting was attended by a large crowd and noted that a previous appeal launched by Dr. J.F. Connell raised a thousand pounds.

In Feb 1953 the opening of the Kyneton Kindergarten took place on Thursday morning when ten children of pre-school age attended. Another ten children commenced at the centre on the following Monday.

At its first annual meeting the secretary of the Association, Mr. F. Cossins gave an overview of the work carried out and money that has been spent in finishing the Pre-School Centre. A total of £1071 had been spent and included the finishing of the interior of the building which was already on site.

The annual report of 1955 revealed more improvements and a solid financial position. Two groups of children used the facility amounting to 60 children and a country group for children to attend on a Thursday afternoon was introduced.

The next major change occurred in 1975 with a new kinder, replacing the old outdated structure that had served pre-school education in Kyneton.

Overall cost of the project $40,000 with State & Federal funds being advanced.

The earlier building was removed by the Malmsbury Youth Training Centre inmates and the landscaping & equipment enabled through a donation of $8000 from Rotary Club Kyneton.

The kinder Bakery cart, still at the old site, originally owned by Murray's Bakery in Mollison St, was donated by the Kyneton Rotary Club in the early 1970s but has been restored since then.

Prior to its closure Lady Brooks was operating at full capacity with 114 children attending half day sessions held every day in both classrooms and three qualified teachers and three assistants.

Research for this article was done by Larina Strauch – Kyneton Historical Society.

"If I can, you can"

Former Kyneton Football Netball Club President Karen O'Sullivan, radio and TV journalist and Club legend Hayden Walsh have joined forces to publish "If I can, you can". Hayden Walsh has been Kyneton's senior timekeeper since 2014.

"If I can, you can", tells the story of the 31-year old's life, and living with cerebral palsy.

Hayden was born with his disability but has refused to be defined by it.

"I was told as a young boy that I was given the body I have, and the life I have and it's up to me to make the most of it. That's what I am doing; living my life to the best of my ability." says Hayden. The one-eyed Collingwood supporter has a unique bond with the AFL Club's former player and coach Nathan Buckley, who has provided a moving Foreword for the book.

When Hayden was 11 years old, he became the first Auskicker with a disability to be involved in a game during the half time break in an AFL match. He was photographed leaving Princes Park with his walking sticks above his head, showing appreciation to the applauding football crowd.

The photo made page three of the Herald Sun newspaper the next day.

Hayden was instrumental in the Kyneton Football Netball Club fielding its first ever all abilities team in 2021.

Call for childcare expansion

Federal Member for Bendigo, Lisa Chesters has met with parents, educators, and Macedon Ranges Shire Council to show her support for the expansion of childcare services in Kyneton.

Ms Chesters' tour began with a visit to Kyneton Community House, to learn about their desire to expand into the old Lady Brooks kindergarten site.

"Community childcare is in high demand in the Kyneton area, with around 40 children currently on the wait list at Kyneton Community House," Ms Chesters said.

"The unmet demand would be partly resolved if the centre was able to relocate to the old Lady Brooks building, giving the potential to obtain an extra room and hire additional staff.

"The site is already home to a maternal child health facility and toy library, so this move makes sense.

"The larger space would enable more families to access the care they desire for their children and help service the region's unmet demand."

Lisa Chesters also met with a group of local parents, who have been struggling to find care for their children.

"Local mums are frustrated.

"They want to return to work but can't.

"Many are stuck on long waiting lists for every centre between Gisborne and Castlemaine.

"Some have been told there are no places available for them at the new childcare centre, yet to be opened in Kyneton".

"I've also met with Macedon Ranges Shire Councillors to discuss the issue," Chesters said.

"Early childcare plays a vital role in getting skilled parents back into the workforce. It is essential for our local economy.

"We know how important early learning is for our children. We know these are some of the most important years for development.

"This is a crisis. Every family should be able to access affordable and appropriate early learning and childcare for the children." Ms Chesters said.

Power outage cause located

Powercor crews believe they may have found the cause of multiple power outages in parts of Kyneton, Macedon Ranges and the Central Highlands.

Residents and businesses in the area had experienced seven unplanned outages between Feb 23 and Mar 8. The outages were being caused by an intermittent fault that was not always there.

Attempts to locate the fault were complicated by a safety switch called a Rapid Earth Fault Current Limiter (REFCL).

The REFCL provides important protection from bushfires by almost instantly cutting power to the feeder if there is a fault.

It is a very good safety device but also detects very minor issues and cuts off power extremely quickly making it difficult to find a fault as typically there is no damage.

On March 9, crews inspected and replaced a variety of items – surge arrestors, fuses, insulators, and high-voltage leads – on seven high-voltage power poles along Martin Street South in Blackwood.

After careful examination of these items, crews found an insulator that had visible burn marks indicating a fault had occurred. This is consistent with what engineering teams expected to be found from the type of fault believed to have caused the outages.

The insulator has now been replaced and taken back to the Ballarat depot for further studies.

However, to be certain there are no other faults occurring, Powercor is continuing to test the network. Crews will be closely monitoring while these tests occur.

Good news for residents inside Kyneton's Tilwinda Estate and all Tilwinda residents facing on to Harpers Lane is that outages for them will soon be less likely because they will be moved on to the Kyneton grid.

West Ward Councillors' Update

We hope you have all been enjoying and participating in the many events happening around the Shire during the Macedon Ranges Autumn Leaves Festival.

It's been rich in nature experiences, promoting local produce and businesses, family events and something for all ages.

It was officially launched on the weekend of the 26 March and it will still have some days left when this edition of Kyneton Connect is released, finishing on the 25 April.

The second iteration of the Kyneton Contemporary Art Triennial was also a great success. Congratulations, and we acknowledge how much work is involved in planning and presenting a week long event.

Importantly on the same weekend at the opening of the Autumn Leaves, Council's Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) was also officially launched at three sites with each of the three Traditional Owners.

Smoking ceremonies and Welcome to Country were celebrated on Dja Dja Wurrung Country at the Malmsbury Common, on Taungurung Country at the top of Bald Hill and on Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung Country at Jacksons Creek.

It was very special showing Council's genuine commitment to reconciliation, building strong relationships, respect and trust between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders and our communities. To share knowledge and learn.

There have been many strategies and areas open for consultation recently and we realise some of you may feel overloaded.

You may have heard that Council has received an official updated offer from the Victorian Government to purchase the East Paddock at Hanging Rock.

Council is inviting residents to share their opinions with us.

Submissions close on Fri Apr 22 on our website mrsc.vic.gov.au/youstay. It is not much time from when this issue of Kyneton Connect is released. Even if the survey is closed, you may like to send a written submission with your thoughts through over the weekend to mrsc@mrsc.vic.gov.au.

Please share your feedback with us. There will also be an opportunity to present in person to Councillors on the matter on Thursday 12 May.

You may have been involved over the past few years with Council's "Move it" program and a range of activities to encourage active ageing for those over the age of 65 years.

Council is proud of its success and delighted that it was recently recognised by the Local Government Professionals (LGPro) winning the Active Ageing and Wellbeing Award.

The project was a partnership of the Loddon Mallee region which includes ten Local government areas. It was led by our Council and funded by the Federal government.

It's budget time and Councillors have held many workshops with Council Officers over the last months.

It is also a time to reflect on the second year of the Council Plan.

We appreciate all the work and expertise of staff and thank you to those in our community who have made contact with us highlighting areas you wish us to consider for funding and works.

As always it is a challenge to balance the budget and competing priorities. We know that with Federal and State elections this year, there is also an opportunity for Council to advocate for projects and we are meeting with sitting members and candidates to discuss these.

We look forward to being able to reflect on ANZAC Day in person this year.

Best wishes

Crs Janet Pearce, Mark Ridgeway, and Jennifer Anderson

Kyneton High Alumni

Kyneton High School recently hosted a panel of alumni (ex-graduates), to talk to the current year 11 & 12 students about how to 'Thrive and Survive' their last two important years at school.

Six enthusiastic alumni took time off from work and university studies, to give back to their old school by offering help, support and guidance to current students.

They each shared their own experiences of years 11 + 12 and provided practical tips and advice on how to manage time and workload, preparation for exams, the importance of looking after mental and physical health - as well as touching on their post-school pathway to their current studies or careers.

The visiting alumni were treated to a school tour with Principal Ana Rees to see the new buildings, classrooms and developments since they left, and it was lovely listening to shared stories of their old school days.

Alum Jamie Gramberg (class of 2007) from Cookie Crumbs provided morning tea - a great example of alumni supporting alumni.

Alumni involved were:

Maggie Copeland (class of 2019) – Studying a double degree in Exercise Science and Physiology;

Barkly Square upgrade

The playing surface at Barkly Square, the home of Kyneton & District Soccer Club for more than 40 years is to be upgraded.

On Mar 12 Member for Macedon Mary-Anne Thomas visited the Square to announce that the Victorian Government had allocated $500,000 for the upgrade from its World Game Facilities Fund.

The Macedon Ranges Shire Council has committed $250,000 for the works.

The current playing surface is plagued by poor drainage and an uneven soil profile, which over the last five years has resulted in a significant number of games being relocated to other venues outside the Shire.

The funding will redevelop the soccer playing surface at Barkly Square to ensure a fit for purpose playing surface.

Works will include new surface, new irrigation and drainage and improvement works to provide additional opportunities for participation.

It is anticipated that work will commence in late 2022 in time for the 2023 winter season.

Urban Sea Shanties choir

The Council is calling out to existing local choirs and the singing community to join a community choir, learning a repertoire of songs during a 4-month period, culminating in a performance at Kyneton Town Hall in September.

Participation is free, and open to people aged 12+.

Rehearsals will be held on Saturday mornings from May to September.

To get involved visit: mrsc.vic.gov.au/get-involved or call Andrea on 0429605619 to find out more.

No 2022 Spud Luncheon

The Kyneton Auxiliary of Vision Australia have advised that they will not be able to conduct their spud Luncheon this year.

Community House Term 2

Kyneton Community House are pleased to have made it through Term 1 with little interruption, a welcome relief after the last 2 years. During 2021 some students from Windarring undertook an Art project, painting a beautiful mural (pictured) in the courtyard at Little Swallow Café.

Due to the various lockdowns the House was unable to celebrate the project completion until recently.

Coming up in Term 2 the House will again be running its Digital Literacy course on Wednesday afternoons for those who need a little extra assistance with their device (laptop, iphone, tablet etc).

On Thursday mornings a room has been set aside for anyone who would like to come along with their craft project to work on it with a cuppa and some company.

A new program is starting, "Everyday Employability Skills" which focusses on gaining hospitality skills such as Barista training, using a point of sale system and running a meal service.

This program will be running on a Tuesday at the High St premises.

The Kyneton Community House Annual General meeting will be held at 34 Mollison Str on Thur Apr 28 from 7pm. To register phone 54223433 before April 25.

Cathouse to present "Rooms"

After the disappointment of needing to cancel their 2021 production of 'Blithe Spirit', Cathouse Players are back in rehearsals, much to the delight of Director, Bette Sartore.

Opening mid- June, 'Rooms' is a reflection on relationships in the many forms they take.

From marriage to old friends and complete strangers, 'Rooms' explores how we perceive ourselves and others and the impact this has.

From thought provoking to a chuckle, audiences will witness the emotions we all feel at times.

Cathouse Players will perform, as usual at the warm and inviting Kyneton Masonic Centre.

Complimentary interval refreshments, yet again will include wine and supper for evening performances and their much loved High Tea with Bubbles during matinees.

Tickets $20/$25. For enquiries call 0490485850.

Parent-Child Mother Goose

Parents and carers of pre-school children are invited to discover the benefits of sharing songs, rhymes and storytelling as Kyneton sees the return of Parent-Child Mother Goose.

The program has been running in the Macedon Ranges for about ten years and when restrictions prevented the groups meeting in person two years ago, staff kept families connected by sharing music and storytelling videos and a fortnightly interactive newsletter.

"We are so happy to be back in person," says Tracey Thiele, Child and Parent Project Facilitator.

As well as being a fun activity for pre-schoolers, the Parent-Child Mother Goose program enhances the bond between child and carer, connects families in the community and allows for the opportunity to share tips and ideas on parenting.

The use of songs, rhymes and stories can also have a positive impact on language and literacy development and school readiness.

"The program is particularly beneficial for those parents or carers who are new to the area or who don't have a support network close by," says Tracey.

Parent-Child Mother Goose will take place on Thursday mornings from 19 May at Sunbury and Cobaw's community meeting room at 1 Caroline Chisholm Dr.

Registrations are essential so please contact Tracey Thiele on 54211666 or email tracey.thiele@scchc.org.au

Located down Turner's Lane, off High Street, opposite the Pizza and Wine Club, it offers a unique area that serves as a wine bar, dining space and beer garden.

Musk Lane moved into their Kyneton home in 2019 and produce all of their wines there. Winemaker Brendan Lane says it's a relaxing place where patrons can enjoy the wines in the place they were made.

A feature is the weighing of wine for patrons. Says Brendan: "Our wine glasses are all handmade and vary slightly in capacity, so we weigh the wine rather than filling each glass to a desired level."

Musk Lane is open Friday to Sunday, 12 noon until late.

New RM Begg Manager

Kate Hayward says taking on the role of General Manager at RM Begg Kyneton Aged Care is like coming home.

The Woodend resident began working as a cleaner, food services assistant, part time cook and a personal carer at RM Begg in the late 1980's before undertaking her Nursing training in the 1990's.

"RM Begg is very dear to me. I worked here as a young woman, my father lived here, and there are people still working here now who I worked with in the early days".

She says long-time RM Begg CEO Sarah Collier had been a great mentor who encouraged her to pursue a career in nursing.

Since then, Kate has worked at various Aged Care facilities and has over 16 years' experience as a General Manager.

Kate Hayward GM with Residents Rosie Devey, Jan Bradbury and Bev Coutts

"It's a privilege to be back and be able to ensure RM Begg Kyneton Aged Care continues to provide excellent care for our residents. It has always been the facility of choice in the Macedon Ranges."

Ms Hayward says she acknowledges the challenges that RM Begg faces and would love to see the facility remain as a standalone organisation, but she is open minded when it comes to change and is confident the current Board will make the right decisions about RM Begg's future. Ms Hayward began her new role on March 7.

Lauriston Hall upgrade

On Mar 25 Minister for Regional Development and Member for Macedon Mary-Anne Thomas visited Lauriston Hall to inspect the completed works, supported by a $50,000 investment through the Victorian Government's Stronger Regional Communities Program.

The building has a long history of community spirit, with two local sisters pooling their money to fund construction of the community hall in the early 1930s.

The upgrade ensures the hall can continue to be an important cultural and social hub for locals and visitors, including space for children's playgroups, performances, not-for-profit group meetings, exhibitions and private functions for the Lauriston community.

The project included rehabilitation works to retain the hall's heritage character, while a new kitchen, bathroom and entrance have modernised its internal fit out.

Kyneton CFA juniors excel

A team of young Kyneton CFA brigade members has taken on, and defeated, the Chief Officer's Chargers in one of the most popular events of the CFA/VFBV State Firefighter Championships.

Under 17 team members Nic Hanna, Sam Foster, Royce Sharp and Spencer Zan competed in the Chief Officer's Challenge, in front a huge crowd at the State Urban Senior Championships at Shepparton on Mar 26

The race pits CFA Chief Officer Jason Heffernan and three of his Deputies against a team of challengers.

The Kyneton Under 17 Juniors won the honour of competing in the event after taking out the wet hose striking one disk twice in the State Urban Junior Championships on the previous weekend.

Initially the race didn't go as planned as the Kyneton team were initially ruled to have made a technical mistake with a hose, however in the re-run of the event the junior team took out the event in a time of 21.48 seconds, ahead of the Chief's Chargers in 22.15 seconds.

Speaking after being presented with their medals, the team paid tribute to their coaches Brett and Emma Magrath who have worked tirelessly with them, practising the skills required for the Championships.

Light Show a great success

The Daffodil & Arts Festival were at last able to present its Light Show on Friday April 8 when work with Visual Architect Jim Coad and the children from Kyneton Primary School was displayed on the Kyneton Mechanics Institute.

Along for the evening were 'The Gardeners' puppets who provided some great extra fun for those who enjoyed the Light show.

Viewers sat in the Mechanics Reserve to eat take away, listen to the Vintage Blues Machine Live Music and to socialise.

The evening proceeded from 6.30pm to about 9pm when it was brought to an end with a sudden downpour of rain.

The Macedon Ranges Autumn Festival is pleased to let you know that the festival received funding from Visit Victoria. There is a survey link to attendees after the event - <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/P77SS3T>

By completing the survey, visitors can go into a draw to win a $300 voucher from Macedon Ranges Produce - <https://www.macedonrangesproduce.com.au/>
