K-12 Delay Dismays District

Parents of students who attend Kyneton Primary School, Kyneton Secondary College and Lady Brooks Kinder have initiated a petition to the Victorian Government seeking commencement of the K-12 facility at the earliest possible opportunity. The launch of the petition on April 7 led the WIN TV News that evening.

Simon Fenwick, Kyneton Primary's Treasurer with WIN TV's Elizabeth McDonald

The master plan for the Kyneton Education Precinct stretching from Edgcombe St to Ferguson and High St estimated to cost $24M was completed last year. The plan was fully supported and paid for by the Dept of Education and Early Childhood Development at a cost of around $500,000.

The schools believed that the Kyneton Education Plan was near the top of the queue for construction and on advice from the Department had forgone the opportunity of applying for $4M Federal Government Stimulus funding for the existing schools.

They had hoped that the Kyneton project would be included in this year's May State Budget.

They became alarmed when a letter received from new State Education Minister in mid-March stated that the master plan hadn't been completed and the Kyneton project could be considered for funding when it was. The parents are concerned that their children's urgent educational needs and six years of planning will be set aside and other previously unranked projects will go to the head of the queue.

The Schools and the Shire Council view the Kyneton Education Plan as critical to the town's infrastructure development and planning.

The surging local population and increased hours required at the Kindergarten means a new Kinder is required.

The primary school site is smaller than required by modern regulations and many of the Secondary College's classrooms are old and do not fully suit 21st Century learning needs.

The Shire Council has chosen the Kyneton Primary site as the location for the Kyneton Community Hub and Cobaw Community Health, a vital and growing service, have said they wish to be located at the central old Primary School site.

"Delay or death of the K-12 education precinct would significantly affect the education of our children and a properly planned development of the vital infrastructure for the town and wider district" Secondary College Council President Alan Todd said.

The Master Plan for the Kyneton K-12 precinct is on the Community Noticeboard in front of the Post Office and petitions are available to sign in many of Kyneton's shops.

Anzac Day Services

The RSL is organising Anzac Day Commemorative Services in Kyneton and surrounds for Mon April 25. The traditional Dawn Service in Kyneton at 5.50am and later at 9.30am participants in the march will leave the Town Hall to arrive at the Memorial in the Mechanics Reserve for the service to commence at about 10am.

The Malmsbury Service is to be at 8am and Trentham's at 11.30am.

New Police Station Opens May

The historic lock-up stays at the new Station

If all goes to plan, police officers currently stationed in the temporary station in Beauchamp St, will move into the new Station in Jennings St on May 10.

The Jennings St Station will be operational the following day May 11. A fortnight later the Macedon Ranges Highway Patrol, Detective CIU and the SOCAU unit will return to the Kyneton Station.

Officer in charge of the Kyneton station Snr Sergeant Geoff Owen said that the Kyneton station will be home to 45 uniform officers, 6 detectives, 6 highway patrol and a SOCAU officer. It will remain a 24 hour station.

The Kyneton Station will also be headquarters for the Macedon Ranges Police Service Area Inspectorate encompassing the Macedon Ranges and the Mt Alexander Shires to be headed by Inspector Greg Hough.

Racecourse Flood Damage

380mm rainfall and flooding at NMIT Kyneton Park in Jan-Feb significantly damaged the track and training facilities and resulted in a very costly repair project.

With the track closed for repair the Mar and Apr meetings did not proceed and trainers have had to work their horses at other tracks.

The Club expects the course will be back in full operation by the end of April with racing returning on Tues May 24.

New R. M. Begg Growing

Significant progress has been made in the construction of the new RM Begg Kyneton Aged Care Facility.

The builders have been working on the foundations for the basement section and much of this work has been difficult to see from street level.

Walls for the back section are now "growing" at a fast pace and progress is much more obvious.

Kyneton Connect's 5th Anniversary

The 5 years of Kyneton Connect have coincided with a remarkable period of change and growth in Kyneton.

From being regarded by some as the poor cousin in the Macedon Ranges Shire Kyneton is now widely regarded a highly desirable place to live and visit.

The development of blocks in the new estates we outlined in our very first edition has not been able to keep up with demand. The number of new businesses coming to the town, has been spectacular.

The improvements in infrastructure have also been significant: Kyneton now has 21 train service per day linking its community to Melbourne, we have a fledgling bus service and the jewel in the crown our own indoor heated pool won against the odds through the determination and hard work of the Kyneton Community over many years.

Kyneton Connect have chronicled all of these things and more. We have provided a reliable means by which local groups can reach the community to tell of their achievements and activities. We have sought to connect all in the Kyneton district with one another so that Kyneton remains a town whose citizens understand and support one another.

Kyneton Connect does not try to compete with or duplicate news provided in the local commercial newspapers. We believe they do a good job covering huge circulation areas. Kyneton Connect seeks to complement the news of the weeklies and also report on aspects of Kyneton life which may be outside their briefs.

Kyneton Connect is truly a Kyneton community newspaper. We sincerely thank all who have given us support. We thank the Kyneton Connections Committee, those who deliver Connect; the donor groups and individuals who make Kyneton Connect possible; the Windarrang people who print and fold this newsletter and also home deliver it to 500 homes; the scores of people and organizations who supply articles to us and to our auspicing body Cobaw Community Health.

Financial Contributors to Kyneton Connect over the past 12 months:

Navvies Revolt Re-enactment

The 1861 Kyneton Navvies Revolt will be re-enacted on Sat Aug 6 to celebrate its 150th anniversary.

The Re-enactment activities are being organised by the Kyneton Daffodil & Arts Festival Committee, the Kyneton Historical Society and owners of the Albion Hotel Tony and Marisa Leahy.

On Aug 3 1861 hundreds of railway line construction workers (navvies) from near and far who were working on the line being built from Melbourne, congregated near the site of the current Kyneton Station. They were protesting about their rate of pay being reduced to 5 shillings a day with no pay on days when frequent wet conditions prevented work.

The navvies or 'turnouts' marched down Mollison St stopping at the Albion Hotel, removing its Union Jack to take with them to their confrontation with 100 police and militia assembled near the Junction Hotel (now Best and Less).

The August 6 re-enactment will be followed by a bush dance at the Albion Hotel which also celebrates its 150th anniversary this year.

With the bush dance occurring close to the usual time of the crowning of the Festival Royals, this year the Festival King and Queen and Princes and Princesses will be invested during the Bush Dance at the Albion.

The Historical Society will also launch its history of the Revolt on August 6.

The Theme for the 2011 Kyneton Daffodil and Festival "Golden Heritage" fits the re-enactment perfectly. The organisers are hoping as many people as possible will wear period costume to participate in the re-enactment, the bush dance and the Festival Parade a month later. Prizes will be given for the best costumes.

During the Festival in September the Albion will also conduct a dinner to celebrate the Hotel's Anniversary.

Their spirits were soon restored when friends and colleagues from the many organisations for whom they had served started to arrive.

Sewers Smoke Testing

Coliban Water is smoke testing to identify where storm water is entering the sewer system in Kyneton.

There have been an increasing number of incidents including sewer chokes, manhole overflows and intrusions into homes following heavy rainfall, especially in the James Court area.

The investigations will identify any gaps in the pipes or where additional storm water connections have been made to the sewer network. Coliban Water can then repair these gaps and remove or rectify these connections.

Testing should be completed by the start of June.

Further works are planned for the James Court area to reduce the likelihood of future sewer incidents.

Coliban Water General Manager Operations Neville Pearce said that following inspections across the network that a number of sewer manhole lids had been sealed and replaced.

"We will also be upsizing 500 metres of sewer main that services the Court to increase capacity," Mr Pearce said.

The size of the sewer main that services James Court will be increased from 150mm to 250mm diameter, to accommodate greater flows in heavy rain periods, at a cost of $197,000.

"These works will commence in early May and will be completed by the end of the month," Mr Pearce said.
